THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Fourth Annual Report of the Chief Engineer.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 7, 1885.

Gentlemen:

I have the honor to submit my fourth annual report in my capacity as chief engineer relative to the status and efficiency of the Victoria volunteer fire department.

INCREASED BUILDING AREA.

Since I last had the honor to report to you the city has largely increased in population and extended in its area of substantial structures. Hence in the near future, if not at the present moment, additional apparatus for the use of the department and for the better security against loss of life and property will be necessary.

THE POMPIER SERVICE.

I beg to suggest that in order to successfully fight fires which may occur in lofty buildings, and for the preservation of life therein, the "Pompier service" be introduced as a branch of the apparatus of the hook and ladder company, members of that company being specially detailed for the operation of the service. In order that your honorable body may understand the nature and value of the apparatus I beg to state that its foundation was laid at St. Louis in 1877 by Mr. C. Hoell. It consists of self conductible ladders, i. e., ladders which may be attached to the belt of the firemen and by him sunk over the sill of an open window. Climbing up the rounds of the ladder, which pass horizontally through the tree, the fireman is enabled to reach the first sill and from that to gain the next and so on until the extreme altitude of the building is surmounted. In order that your honorable body may more thoroughly comprehend the character of the Pompier service, I beg to enclose herewith a copy of "The Fireman," a newspaper published in England, and containing an exhaustive account of the apparatus.

HYDRANTS AND CISTERNS.

Again, taking into consideration the increased area of the city and its buildings, involving the investment of a large amount of capital, I would suggest that the number of hydrants be increased, their locations extending to the suburbs not already secured against fire. At present the department has 52 (fifty-two) hydrants situate centrally and covering a very considerable area; but more are necessary. I herewith enclose a printed guide to existing locations. During the past year, or term, new hydrants have replaced those erected at the Victoria brewery and at Messrs. Muirhead & Mann's sash factory.

The department has eleven (11) cisterns of good capacity and centrally situate within the several wards; and the supply of water from them is reliable, except in the event of a break in the city water works mains.

APPARATUS AND HOUSES.

The steam and manual engines used by the department are the same in number and class as at the date of my last report. The apparatus of the department is as follows:—

UNION HOOK AND LADDER CO.

One truck carrying four (4) ladders, nine (9) hooks; four (4) lanterns; two (2) crowbars; one (1) monkey wrench; one (1) large extension ladder; one (1) small ladder; 150 ft. of rope; eight (8) lanterns; one (1) thermometer; one (1) sprinkler; one (1) Babcock extinguisher; two (2) oil cans; some 200 torches; six (6) axes; two (2) saws; six (6) new lanterns.

DELUGE ENGINE CO., NO. 1.

The apparatus in charge of this company consists of:—One (1) Merryweather steam engine with Silsby heater attached; one (1) hose carriage; one (1) hose cart; 700 feet of carbolized hose in good condition; 700 ft. of canvas rubber lined hose in good condition; 3 lengths old carbolized hose; 7 lanterns. Total length of hose 1550 ft.; 1400 ft. of which is on reel and ready for service. Also 50 feet of hose for washing apparatus and engine house; one (1) shovel; two (2) hydrant keys; ten (10) nozzles; one (1) thermometer; one (1) suction connection; ten (10) spanners; two (2) coal bags; tool for turning over steamer; five (5) supply pipes; two (2) crowbars; one (1) hoe; one (1) helmet and coat; one (1) die; one navy coupling; one steel sledge: set of sleigh hammers; one (1) spray nozzle; one pair of gas tong nippers; one (1) expander; one (1) set of valve springs; three (3) patent hydrant keys with spanners attached; one (1) steel brand, "V. F. D."; three patent leak stops; one Siamese connection with cock stops; one dividing breaching; 150 feet rope; sleigh runners for steamer and sundry tools and one wheelbarrow.

TIGER ENGINE CO., NO. 2.

The apparatus of this company is as follows:—one steam engine (Button); one (1) manual engine; 850 feet of carbolized hose in good condition: 800 feet of canvas hose nearly new; seven (7) lengths, 350 feet of old carbolized hose; seven (7) lanterns; three (3) hose carts; total length of hose on reel 1650 feet; 50 feet of garden hose for cleaning apparatus; one (1) jack-screw; ten (10) spanners; four (4) axes; one (1) thermometer; eight (8) supply pipes; one (1) stove and piping; one (1) suction connection; one (1) shovel; eight (8) nozzles; one (1) force pump; two (2) hydrant keys; one (1) blunderbuss; one dividing breaching; one (1) Siamese connection and stop cock; three patent spanners with hydrant keys attached; one pair of gas tong nippers; three leak stops; 150 feet of rope; one wheelbarrow.

JAMES BAY ENGINE HOUSE.

The apparatus at this engine house is as follows:—one manual engine (Honeymann); 500 feet carbolized hose and one hose carriage.

DEPARTMENT HOUSES.

The Union hook and ladder company's house, No. 1, is a two-story frame building situate on Government street, between Fort and Broughton. Should the apparatus of this company be increased by the "Pompier-Service," as I have recommended, and by the utility of a new fire escape to arrive shortly from England, the capacity of the building will be inadequate to the company's requirements, and I should recommend that better and more substantial accommodation be afforded. The fire escape to which I refer was ordered from Messrs. Rose & Co., of Manchester, Eng., and I am advised that it has been shipped and may be expected to arrive at the latter part of this year. Its first cost as per invoice was £80.

THE "DELUGE" ENGINE CO. NO. 1.

Occupy a two-story brick building situates on Yates street, between Broad and Douglas streets. The structure is one of the most substantial in the city and its architectural proportions are an adornment to the ward.

THE "TIGER" ENGINE CO. NO. 2.

Occupy a two-story brick building which is part of the city hall on Pandora street. The building is divided, the apartments on the upper floor being respectively used for the meetings of the board of delegates and those of the company itself.

THE JAMES BAY ENGINE HOUSE.

Is a one-story frame building situated on Kingston street, and so far answers all requirements for the locality and the company.

ALARM BELLS.

The system of alarms is generally perfect, a heavy bell swinging in each tower of the engine houses, and denoting the locality of a fire by striking the ward, the number of which is known and made public on printed diagrams. The bell of the Tiger Engine No. 2, is struck by electric apparatus from the central telephone office, and telephonic communication exists between the Tiger and the other houses, except James Bay. I would recommend that telephonic service be extended to the James Bay engine house without delay.

The department has in its possession, for the use of pipe and ladder men, 18 rubber coats and 18 pairs of rubber boots.

A NEW STEAM ENGINE.

Whilst alluding to the extent and condition of the apparatus of the fire department of this I city would suggest that they be increased and valuably supplemented by the purchase of a Merryweather steam engine of greater capacity than that now used by the Deluge Engine Co., and in connection with the purchase I would combine that of 1,000 feet of rubber hose, with instantaneous couplings, manufactured by Messrs. Rose & Co., of Manchester, Eng. These couplings could, and in my opinion, should be generally adapted to the hose of the department.

STORAGE OF INFLAMMABLES.

Your honorable body have amongst your civic bylaws one for the prevention of the large storage of inflammables and combustibles within certain limits of the city. I beg to request that the provisions of this bylaw be enforced in their entirety or that more stringent measures may be taken to prevent the possibility of incendiarism and to preserve the property of taxpayers. The comparative immunity from fire within the city limits is not necessarily a precursor. I beg herewith to append a list of the fires that have occurred during the past year, giving their locations, as well as false alarms, and the extent of insurance on buildings burned, the origin of fire, etc.

THE DEPARTMENT'S STRENGTH.

At the date of my report to your honorable body the numerical strength of the department is as follows:

	Members.
Union Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1	47
Deluge Engine Co. No. 1	33
Tiger Engine Co. No. 2	38
Total membership	118

The membership last year at the date of my report was 131, an increase of 13 over this year, as shown above.

THANKS TO OFFICERS.

Before concluding my report I beg to thank your honorable body for the assistance you have extended to me in the execution of my duties, and I also wish to especially recognize the aid and courtesy shown to me by the firewardens, by Supt. Bloomfield, of the city police force, his assistant-sergeant, J. Flewin, and the civic officers generally, among whom I desire to mention particularly Mr. Alex. Hendry, mechanical engineer of the department and superintendent of water works construction. I also have to thank the president of the board of delegates and the members of the board for their co-operation with me in the performance of my duty and in the acquisition of necessary new apparatus for the use of the department.

The fires and alarms I enumerate as follows during the past term of office:

Chinese tenements belonging to Mr. C. Bossi were also burned, and the total loss caused by the fire is placed at from $15,000 to $20,000. No insurance on the Terminus hotel; on the furniture, etc., of the Grand Pacific hotel insurance for $6000 in the London, Liverpool and Globe office, Messrs. Hall & Goepel agents; Mr. Bossi's property was covered by insurance of $5000 in the Royal and by $2500 in the London and Lancashire, Messrs. R. Satellite.

May 15—False alarm; bush burning near to the Craigflower brick-kiln.

THE KREMSIER INTERVIEW.

A Franzensbad journal publishes a short conversation which M. de Giers had with a local municipal councilor on his return to that watering place. The councillor remarked that there had been fewer English visitors than usual this year at Bohemian spas, and attributed this to the alarms of war.

"Well, you may tranquillise yourself," said M. de Giers, with a laugh. "Peace is assued for many a year, and I will wager you that in 1886 you will have twice as many English visitors as usual."

The Tagblatt observes on this conversation:

"M. de Giers's loud and repeated promises of peace, before the Afghan question is settled, cannot be considered insignificant when we remember how reserved Russian diplomatists commonly are. It looks as if M. de Giers very much wished the world to believe that if any new difficulties arise they will not be of Russia's making."

The Hungarian and Galician papers are very sceptical as to peace having been secured by the arrangements at Kremsier. The Egyetértés says:

"It is an abuse of words to pretend that peace is guaranteed by leaving Russia carte blanche in Afghanistan. One would really think that it was England which had been threatening the world's peace by an onward march towards Russia. Assurredly, if Russia is to be kept quiet, it can only be by the certainty that she would be overmatched in war; but if her weakest point in defence is to be protected by officious neighbors, where is our security?"

The Pester Lloyd presumes that M. de Giers must have been told at Kremsier that if he wished for peace he must prove it, not by mere words, but by settling all the little frontier difficulties that still remain behind the Zulfikar question.

The Przeglond says:

"It is to be presumed that if M. de Giers obtained concessions he must have made some on his side. What were they? A free hand to Austria for the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, which she already occupies, would have been a small matter. But perhaps M. de Giers was induced to promise that if the general election in England brought to office a government not friendly to Germany and Austria, Russia would enter into no alliance with that government on any terms. Even if such a promise has been made, we may well doubt whether Russia would keep it for a day longer than suited her interests; but if it has not been made, cannot the two central European powers foresee an Anglo-Russian alliance as a probable outcome of all their finessing? The real goal of Russia is Constantinople, which will be of no great importance to England from the day when she is established in Egypt; and, on the other hand, England is not bound to pit herself against three first-class powers for the sake of defending Afghanistan. Supposing Mr. Gladstone in his forthcoming campaign proclaims a policy of absolute renunciation as to Turkey in Europe and Afghanistan, and supposing he carries the country with this cry, what then will become of the triple alliance? Russia, surfeited with territory in Asia, will turn her forces towards Europe, and Austria will find that her kind efforts to keep peace for Russia in Turkey will only have prepared war for herself in the Balkans."

The Wiener Tagblatt gives currency again to the report that as soon as the railway to Merv is completed the czar will go there to be crowned with the diadem of Tamerlane.

The Metlakahtlans.

TO THE EDITOR:—In this morning's issue of your valuable paper I noticed a paragraph to the effect that the Metlakahtla Indians had determined to boycott the bishop's store. Is this word "store" a misprint, sir? or, if correct, is it a rude way of alluding to a Bible and Prayer-book depot of which the bishop is patron? Surely, it cannot be that a bishop of the Church of England keeps a general store and is trying to lay up for himself treasure on earth, etc., etc. I trust that in to-morrow's issue you will be able to dispel such a doubt from the minds of your readers. It is painful and yet ludicrous to imagine a prelate—his long beard, well kept and recking of Rowland's macassor, his nether garments protected by the Episcopal apron, and his legs encased in gaiters—blanding behind a counter, retailing small quantities of sugar, coal oil, etc., to Indians, and then later on exhorting them to elevate their minds above earthly things. Surely, your correspondent has tried to hoax you. X.

Lacerated Affections.

NAPANEE, Sept. 23.—At the Napanee assizes last week a breach of promise case was heard. The parties to the suit were Miss McGuire and Mr. Mowbray, of Sheffield township. The plaintiff, about 40 years of age, is a plain matter-of-fact person. Mowbray is about 50 years of age, and the possessor of considerable property. The suit was brought to recover $10,000 damages to affections, Mowbray having married another womgn. There were no letters produced, but the manner in which Miss McGuire told her romance with the gay cavalier was very interesting. She told how Mowbray "popped the question." It ran something like this: "How do you like me?" enquired the lover, as he hung his big hat in a circle and hitched his chair up closer to the maiden. "Very well," she replied, beaming benignly upon Mowbray. "Then I guess we'll get married," said the emboldened farmer after a mighty effort to speak. She assented, and the arrangements were made, and it was decided that the minister at Camden East should tie the knot. The cost of the trip was figured up at $15, and Mowbray thought they could pull through that expense. Then they read the service and Mowbray, unintentionally, of course, called his betrothed's attention to the word "obey." Miss McGuire, in happy anticipation of her marriage, secured a trousseau at a cost of $18 or $19. Afterwards Mowbray deserted her, hence the action. The defence set up that she was not all he thought she was, but the jury gallantly awarded her $300 and costs. Afterwards, Miss McGuire, looking at Mowbray, ezid, "I guess I haven't lost much."

Rioters of Monday Last Sentenced.

Placards Torn Down and Militiamen Beaten.

Option of Discharge or Vaccination.

Another Attack by the Mob on the Police.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—There were 184 deaths from small-pox in this city during the four days ending Tuesday night, besides 51 in the adjoining municipalities.

Alphonso Movaise and Wm. Beebe, who were arrested during the riot on Monday were today sentenced to four month's imprisonment. Four young men, three named Perault and one Cowan, arrested on St. Catherine street last night, were discharged to-day.

Over one hundred placards were torn down in the eastern district yesterday, but the sanitary police replaced them to-day.

This afternoon three members of the fifth Royal Scotts were badly beaten by roughs.

A firm of lumber merchants gave their employés the option of being vaccinated or leaving work. Forty of them this morning went on strike. They got full of bad whisky and returned at noon and threatened to have their revenge to-night.

Gen. Middleton is in the city and will remain as long as his presence is needed.

Sub Chief Lancy and a detachment of police were attacked near Bansceurs market to-day by a mob with stones, but on the police charging them they fled.

The city will continue under military protection during the night.

The insurance policy of $140,000 on the exhibition buildings held by a London company has been withdrawn.

A rumor was current during this evening that a fight was going on in the east end, but the report proved unfounded.

Business Suspended and Anarchy Prevailing.

ROUMELIA.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—During the last two days heavy artillery firing has been heard in the direction of Pristina and Djakova. It is believed a desperate fight has been raging between the Turks and Arnuts. The Bashi Bazuks have sacked and burned several villages in western Roumelia.

PHILLIPPOPOLIS, Sept. 30.—Merchants here have suspended payments. The bank of Phillippopolis has closed its doors and general anarchy prevails in commercial circles.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—James E. Brown, a colored notary public, and Mrs. Eleanor Weil, jointly accused of felony in taking and passing off as genuine the affidavit of Isabella Clark, an old paralyzed woman in the alms-house, and presenting it as evidence in the Sharon divorce case, were held to answer to-day, with bail set at $1000 each.

WESTPORT, Cal., Sept. 30.—The schooner Seafoam upset at 2.20 and went on the rocks. The crew were rescued with, perhaps, the exception of one man. Value, $10,000; insurance unknown. The schooner Humboldt parted lines at 3:20, and is a total wreck. The crew were saved. Value, $15,000; insurance unknown. The accidents were caused by a heavy swell in the harbor.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The World says: It is not at all certain that the Genesta will go back to England. A member of the New York yacht club offered yesterday $20,000 for the yacht, which was refused. The gentleman who made the offer was on board the Genesta yesterday afternoon, and it is probable that he will advance $5000 on his first offer, in which case he will probably obtain the yacht. Should he purchase her both the Brenton Reef and Cape May cups will by terms of their deeds of gift come back to the New York yacht club.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Bulletin's New York special says: A meeting was held yesterday of the members of the importers' and grocers' exchange, at which resolutions were adopted urging the government to facilitate rapid and regular communication with China, Japan and the East Indies, saying that trade was already embarrassed by recent delays in the service. About thirty leading bankers and merchants also signed a circular, which has been forwarded to the postmaster general, urging him to make some arrangements by which eastern mails could be expedited.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—U. S. Minister Merrill has sent to the department of state copies of the regulations recently promulgated by the Hawaiian kingdom, controlling the immigration of Chinese. In substance the regulations are as follows: No vessel will be allowed to land more than twenty-five passengers at any port in the kingdom unless the passengers in excess of that number are provided with passports entitling them to enter. Passports entitling holders to return to the kingdom will be granted to persons of Chinese nationality or who may hereafter become residents on the islands, provided such persons have been engaged in trade or conducting some industrial enterprise during at least one year of their residence. No return passports will be given to Chinese laborers leaving the islands. Passports will be granted at the foreign office, also by his majesty's consular office at Hongkong, Shanghai and San Francisco to any Chinese women desiring to come to the islands, and to Chinese children whose parents are residing in the kingdom or who may not be of age. A passport entitling the holder to enter the kingdom will also be granted at the foreign office to such persons of Chinese nationality as the minister of foreign affairs may claim proper to admit to the kingdom.

OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

Second Suspension of the "Bosphore-Egyptien."

The German-Spanish Colony Dispute.

Old-World Gossip Re-Discussed

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

LONDON, Sept. 12th.

In France, as elsewhere, the question is not, would this or that be for the nation's good? but, would the doing of this or that imperil the party interest? Some time ago, General De Courcy asked for 1,500 additional troops. But the government dare not do anything till the elections are over. Instead of further disturbing the country by the mention of reinforcements, ministers are occupied to their utmost in bringing forward and magnifying the importance of certain home questions. The object of that is to make the people forget Tonquin until the voting time is past.

The Bosphore-Egyptien has

AGAIN BEEN SUPPRESSED.

It is generally stated that the French government has been compelled to take this step because the language of the paper was calculated to prejudice French interests in Egypt. The noise made in France about the first suppression of the paper was in no sense creditable. The paper was the incarnation of vulgarity and scurrilty. Attacks on English officers and libels on the Queen were constantly appearing in its columns. How such filth could serve French interests is difficult to conjecture. But, had the Bosphore-Egyptien been the most reputable, instead of the most scandalous of prints, France could not have more enthusiastically defended the obnoxious journal. That it should be finally suppressed by the French government is a fitting close to a pestilent career.

The relations between

GERMANY AND SPAIN

are growing critical. Spain has declined the German proposal for arbitration on the question of the Carolines. Madrid is intensely excited by the German occupation of Yap. The mob has attacked the German embassy, pulled down the coat of arms, and consigned it to the flames. A meeting of its leading liberals has been held at the house of Senor Sagasta, where it was resolved that the occupation of Yap by a German gunboat is equivalent to a declaration of war, and that if the liberal party were called to power, they would withdraw the Spanish minister from Berlin, and give his passports to the representative of Germany in Madrid. The governor of Yap wished to resist the Germans, but the commander of the San Quentin refused. For this refusal he has been dismissed by telegraph. The Carolines is a general designation of the group of islands of which Yap is the second in importance. These islands are east of the Philippines and south of the Ladrones. They received their name from Lazeano, who discovered them in 1686, and called them the Carolines in honor of Carlos II. The inhabitants are Malays, and specially skilled in navigation. The islands of the south, but they are exposed to hurricanes. It is not, therefore, a tranquil spot which Bismarck has chosen for disputing the authority of Spain, which just now is in a testy mood. She has not made great use of the islands, and the action of Germany was probably taken in consequence of the fact. Happily, the Carolines are on the other side of the globe, and relinquishing dominion there is not so humiliating as would be the abandonment of a province of Iberia. Meanwhile, the agitation on this question in Spain is so fierce that it threatens to compromise the throne of Alfonso. It may, perhaps, in some measure reconcile, not only Spain, but Europe, to the colonial development of Germany, if it is remembered that this expansion rather weakens than strengthens the Fatherland. Colonies scattered over the globe require soldiers to protect them.

HAVE ALL THE BEAUTY

Mr. Gladstone telegraphed on Saturday as follows: "Must not presume to advise Sheffield, but hope Mr. Plimsoll's generosity and services will be rewarded by returning him to parliament." This looks a good deal like advice, notwithstanding the writer's disclaimer. Whether Mr. Plimsoll will have reason to be grateful for it, we shall see.

Very little has been heard of late of the Claimant. His projected series of lectures and public demonstrations was nipped in the bud by a that as he was on ticket-of-leave it behooved him to be circumspect in his procedure. Another project, of taking a public house, to be called "The Tichborne Head," was resisted by the Claimant himself, who did not think it consonant with his dignity. Now he chiefly—exclusively, as far as I know—confines his public appearances to the yard where trapped pigeons are shot. He was at Ashford the other day, shooting off a pigeon match in a field adjoining a little public house, "entrance one shilling, reserved seats half a crown." The Claimant, it will be remembered, is a capital shot.

MISS MINNIE PALMER,

"My Sweetheart," has been indirectly the cause of raising a novel and knotty point in regard to income-tax assessment. Her astute manager, Mr. J. R. Rogers, has caused to be published glowing accounts of the big business done by the American soubriette in this country; and deducting therefrom that the entrepreneur must himself be laying up much wealth, the inland revenue have formally demanded a percentage of his "makings." At Hull, the other day, Mr. Rogers had to face the dread surveyor of taxes. To him he pleaded exemption, on the ground that he was an undomiciled alien, an American with no fixed residence. The question for the lawyers will be whether Mr. Rogers is domiciled within the meaning of the statute. Should the point be decided in favor of the crown, then Mr. Rogers must pay, or suffer the consequences either in goods or person.

Another case, somewhat analagous, has occurred in reference to a distinguished member of in London. Members of the diplomatic bodies are by law exempt from imperial and local taxation. The gentleman in question recently entered upon the tenancy of a mansion in the West-end. In due course he was presented with a demand for something like £40 for parochial rates. Payment was refused, on the ground of non-liability. The plea was not admitted, but at the same time it was pointed out that under a private act the parish had the power in such cases to sue the landlord. Now, the landlord in this instance was the Duke of Westminster, with whom the American diplomatist is on terms of close intimacy, and rather than immunity at the expense of a friend, the tenant drew a cheque for the amount demanded.

It appears that Mr. Carew, one of the gentlemen who accommopanied Captain Dale in his

UNLUCKY BALLOON ASCENT

a day or two ago, was the loser of a watch valued at a hundred guineas, and of an expensive diamond scarf pin. Just as the aerostat was descending into the waters of the channel, Mr. Carew judged it wise to undress himself, so as to be able to make a better fight for his life, and by so doing allowed his clothes and valuables to drift away beyond recovery. There may be comfort for Mr. Carew in the reflection that he did not lose his life as well as his clothes and jewelry; but it would have been better still if he had been cautious enough, in the first instance, not to take a costly watch and trinkets with him while on so hazardous an errand. A man who goes up in a balloon should no more think of taking articles of value with him than if he were going into a den of thieves. Such ornaments as diamond scarf pins are perfectly useless to him in the regions of the air, and being out of place, are best left at home. Money is, of course, useful to a balloonist, since he cannot foretell where he may land at the end of his voyage, but with "sinews of war" he should as sailors often contrive—fasten his purse to a belt round his body.

ONE MORE DOSE OF DEATH

for Osman Digma! This time, according to a Cairo telegram, he has been shot in the stomach. It is now the third time since the Mahdi's death that the redoubtable Osman has been reported killed. If he be destined, in this also, to follow the example of the warlike prophet, Osman will have to be reported dead forty or fifty times in all before his final departure.

Switzerland is famed for her soldiers of fortune; but not even has she had, in modern times, many to compare with General Castella, who has just died at Bulle, in his native Canton of Fribourg. He was but a youth when, at the close of the Sonderbound war, he took part in the insurrection there, and got cast into prison for his pains. Escaping into France, he, after found his way to Italy, and joined the Pontificial army, with which he remained until the capture of Rome put an end to the temporal power. The Italian troops did not encounter a more daring soldier than Castella. In 1870, he offered his sword to the French government of national defence, and played a gallant part as a commander in the unfortunate army of the east, under Bourbake. He escaped into Switzerland with the relics of Bourbake's force and remained once more a prisoner in his native country until the close of the war. Thereafter, Castella joined Don Carlos in Spain, and fought under his standard until the insurrectionary was dispersed. The following deaths have also to be noted: M. Godard, the famed aeronaut who rendered immense service to the French during the Franco-Prussian war of 1870; Sir Charles Whetham, one of the aldermen, and lord mayor of London during 1878-9; Colonel William Yalland, C. B., F. R. S.; Mr. Francis W. Rowsell, C.B., C.M.G., who held the office of English commissioner for the domains in Egypt. He was formerly director of contracts at the admiralty, and Mr. W. A. Guy, M.B., F.R.S., F.R.C.P. Mr. Guy held a number of appointments, among which were honorary secretary to the statistical society in 1845, and president in 1873, examiner in forensic medicine at the university in 1862, Swiney prizeman, 1869, and vice-president of the Royal Society in 1876 7.

YESTERDAY'S DISPATCHES.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from Constantinople, received this afternoon, says that considerable consternation prevails in official circles over an important discovery just made by Alibi Sahib Pasha, the new minister of war. Immediately on being in his position Alibi Sahib Pasha ordered all the various department commanders to report the strength of their respective commands, and their present condition, and detailed several officers to inspect various posts. Their reports have been received and show that under Glazi Osman Pasha, late minister of war, who was dismissed on September 25th, the army was almost entirely neglected, and large sums of money, which were voted for military purposes, were used in other ways than those for which they were meant. Inquiry has revealed that at Adrianople the army, which was supposed to be 15,000 contains not half that number, the soldiers have no uniforms and are shoeless, the cavalry is unable to march, owing to lack of horses, and 20,000 men, who have been fully equipped, are under orders to march at an hour's notice.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 30.—Indications to-day point to active war preparations by the porte. Eighty battalions of first-class reserves are being mobilized in the districts bordering on the Black Sea, at points which will facilitate the transport of troops for action in Roumelia, in the event of the sultan being compelled to adopt extreme measures to settle the Roumelian difficulty. The transportation department is actively engaged in furnishing the means for the concentration of troops at the most available points for an advance on Roumelia.

MONTREAL, Sept. 30.—Only two small disturbances occurred last night, one at Grey Nunnery, and the other at Champ de Mars. Police had received information that the mob would assemble at the latter place, and a strong force was on hand. On hearing this the unruly crowd was quickly dispersed. Everything is quiet this morning. The large force of militia called out has evidently had a good effect. No further serious trouble is anticipated. Public feeling is completely aroused by the conduct of the rioters, and the police are denounced on all sides for their seeming want of courage. The authorities are resolved to carry out the health laws vigorosly, and will take whatever steps are necessary for that purpose.

Triumphal arches are to be erected on the corner of Yates and Government streets. The governor general is to be met at the wharf, where the procession will form and proceed along Wharf and up Johnson streets to Government street, proceeding along the latter to Yates street, where the civic address will be presented. The procession will then reform and escort his excellency to the Government house. All the societies will be requested to join the procession in uniform. Sports and other amusements will take place on Beacon hill.

The various sub-committees for the purposes of the collection of funds and the carrying out of the programme have been appointed.

A Practical Poem.

[WRITTEN FOR THE COLONIST.]

Oh what's the use of vain repining,
Over fru t we did not pluck;
Others saw their chance and took it,
While we envied them their luck.

Do not like a coward whimper,
O'er misfortunes false or real,
Show to men your pluck and manhood,
Put your shoulder to the wheel:

If misfortune comes then meet it,
'Tis often far off, though seems near,
Don't forget the ancient maxim,
"When darkest then the sky will clear."

If you're honest, steady, sober,
Stick to work and do it well,
Many men you'll find to help you,
In the long run "grit" will tell.

Then what's the use of vain repining,
For the past that's gone and dead,
Better far it is to brace up,
Move yourself and look ahead.

From Leech River.

About the end of July last a party of four—Messrs. M. Schuyler, J. Horton, J. Peterscn and H. Campbell—went prospecting for the precious metal to Leech river, where the water is lower than it has been for several years. They commenced operations about two miles above the north fork close to a place called "The Devil's Grip," and worked steadily up the bed of the river. After six weeks' hard work they realized something short of $100. They returned about a fortnight ago, resolved to try some more promising field for their labors.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES.

An Organized Gang of Mere Boys for Burglary.

Officer Sheppard yesterday morning arrested young Townsend and two boys named Holloway, suspected of housebreaking. Townsend, it will be remembered, was up at the last fall assizes for a similar offence and allowed to go to China on the Sardonyx. Since his return the police have been watching him, and he was

SUSPECTED OF VARIOUS ROBBERIES.

The other day proof was sufficient that he robbed J. K. Worsfold's house, James Bay, from which he secured a pistol and watch and other trinkets and a quantity of groceries. The watch was pawned in Seattle and the pistol sold to a boy named Miller, while the jewelry was given away. Townsend has been living in a cabin in the rear of the Driard, and here he used to entertain a number of other lads with the result of his robberies. He heard Mr. Worsfold order the groceries stolen in J. Fell's store, followed the cart to the house and at night went there, stole everything but a bottle of liquor and also appropriated the valuables.

When the Rover of the Seas was loading salmon he was caught in the act of stealing some crockery from the Hermine's freight, and was allowed to go by the ship's officers on the promise that he should go to sea on the Rover, but he

when the vessel sailed.

Early yesterday morning Officer Sheppard, who has been working up the case, went to the Anderson, and, finding Townsend there, arrested him on the charge of robbery from Worsfold's house. On arriving at the barracks the young prisoner told the officer that the night previous he and young Holloway had robbed the store of Charles Morton, and as proof took a lot of gold pens, pencils and other valuables from his pockets to the amount of over $100. The officer returned to the steamer and just before she sailed arrested Holloway on the gang-plank, who also had a number of valuables in his pockets.

Yesterday afternoon a boy named William Miller gave the officer information that Holloway had and gave them up. These consisted of some 39 knives, a lot of gold pens and pencils, letter scale, purses, magnifying glass, etc., the lot amounting to nearly $50.

The boys were brought before the police magistrate yesterday morning and remanded. The evidence is strong against all three, and it would appear that there has been a regular systematic and organized gang of these boys for the purpose of robbery, they taking what goods they could not dispose of here to Seattle and other Sound towns and disposing of their plunder there.

Police Court.

[Before Mr. Edwin Johnson, P. M.]

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 30th.

In the case of King Tye and others vs. Cumyow a new charge of forgery was entered against the prisoner.

Mr. E. M. Johnson for the prosecution requested that bail (if allowed) should be of such proportions as to ensure the prisoner's remaining in the country, as he had heard from more than one person that he intended to leave should an opportunity present itself; he even went as far as to say that Mr. Theodore Davie, the prisoner's counsel, had himself told him so.

Mr. Davie denied having said any such thing, and accused Mr. Johnson of telling a deliberate falsehood, adding at the same time that he never wished to see him in his office again, and that if Mr. Johnson's evidence was as false as the statement just made, he (Mr. Davie) would have no hesitation in swearing that Mr. Johnson was not to be believed on oath.

A bail of $250 was imposed, and the case remanded for eight days.

Fan Tuck Ten, charged with unlawfully being in possession of a check for $250 on the Bank of British Columbia, drawn by Mason & Daley, of Cariboo, in favor of Rafael Vauzemila, was remanded till this morning.

Gee Wun, charged with loitering in North Park street with intent to commit felony was discharged for want of evidence to substantiate the charge

Alfred Townsend and Frank Holloway, two well known Victoria lads, were charged with breaking into the store of Mr. Charles Morton, on Government street, and abstracting therefrom goods and money to the amount of $141.75.

Officer Sheppard deposed that on Wednesday morning shortly after 3 o'clock he went down to the steamer Eliza Anderson lying at the wharf at the foot of Johnson street. Upon going on board he found both the prisoners on the lower deck; he immediately arrested Townsend on a previous charge. On reaching the jail the prisoner said he would tell him something more when they got inside; he then confessed that he and Holloway had broken into Morton's store, at the same time producing many of the articles they had stolen. Afterwards arrested Holloway about 4 o'clock near the gangway plank of the Eliza Anderson as she was about to sail.

The store was broken into from behind, the thieves using a chisel and a file to force an entrance. It appears that Townsend and W. Holloway (brother to the one arrested yesterday) were the thieves who lately relieved Mr. J. K. Worsfold of some of his portable property. The prisoners were remanded till Friday next at 12 o'clock.

THE ALASKA GOLD MINES.

Glowing Account from "The Colonist" Correspondent.

The Prospects Bright for the Quartz Interests.

General Description of Juneau --Prospecting Parties.

JUNEAU CITY, ALASKA, Sept. 19th.

TO THE EDITOR:—Thinking it might be of interest to your many readers I drop you a line from this place. Juneau City is situated on a bay of the same name, and on a plateau which rises gradually from the water and extends back to the foot of precipitous mountains almost perpendicularly some 3,000 or 4,000 feet high; opposite is famous for its large deposits of gold-bearing quartz. On one of these ledges is situated the largest, or one of the largest, quartz mills in the world (120 stamps), fully equipped with the latest and most improved machinery. The ledge, some 600 feet in width, lies above the mill, and about 1,000 feet from it a shaft from the top to the level of the tramway, not far from the edge of the ledge, receives the ore which is mined from the top of the ledge, and is carried on a substantial tramway to the top or fourth story of the mill, where it is crushed and fed to the stamps by machinery. This vast mill will crush over 350 tons of ore per day, and only requires the attendance of twenty-five men on each shift. The enterprising projector and part-owner of this justly celebrated stamp mill, Mr. Treadwell, is at present in very poor health. When I visited the mill and mines the other day he informed me that the output of

DOUGLAS ISLAND,

GOLDEN BRICKS HAD STEADILY INCREASED

from the start in July, and can be safely put down at $100,000 per month. The chlorination works are not yet in satisfactory working order; but as soon as they are the output will be largely increased. There is but little doubt that there will be two or more stamp mills erected at once on the same ledge, as there are several other claims on the same lode which are said to be equally rich and extensive as the Treadwell claim. Senator Jones and other caapitalists are here from San Francisco inspecting these mines, and it is expected that several other mills will shortly be started. The outlook is very bright for Alaska, with its mild climate and immense gold-bearing quartz veins. There were several

GARDENS AND TRUCK PATCHES

started around Juneau this year, and turnips, beet, lettuce, potatoes and other vegetables, as fine as you would wish to see, are raised in abundance, and myriads (that's the only word that will express it) of fish abound in every bay or creek. The timber of this part of Alaska is rather inferior, principally hemlock and spruce, but enough for all purposes. To return to

JUNEAU.

It has about 600 inhabitants. There are eight stores of dry goods and groceries, two drug stores, three tin shops, two shoemakers, two tailors, one blacksmith shop and fifteen saloons, or places where beer, whisky and other liquors are sold, and one brewery. The placer mines have been fairly prosperous this year. There are of the citizens of Juneau over fifty miners who have been out prospecting, most of them upon the tributaries of the Yukon, who have not returned yet, but are expected early next month. Many parties have returned from short trips of two or three months, and bring in fine specimens of gold, silver and copper; and one party from up the coast returned lately from a visit to on the coast some ninety miles above here, with some fine specimens of this valuable mineral. There is no doubt whatever that Alaska is rich in mineral resources, and that its development has now assumed a tangible shape. The climate is very nearly like that of the inhabited part of British Columbia. It's high northern latitude would indicate a rigorous climate; but the same influences (ocean currents) that mitigate the climates of British Columbia and other parts of this northwest coast are at work here, and no other precautions in houses or clothing are necessary for the comfort of its citizens.

A MINE OF MICA,

OFFICIALS.

The new governor, district-attorney and marshal arrived on the Idaho, and relieved the old incumbents, Gov. Kinkead, District-Attorney Hascott and Judge McAllister. The ex-governor and ex-judge go home on the Idaho, the district-attorney and marshal remain, and will remain permanent residents of Alaska, I understand. I have nothing more of interest. P. R. SMITH.

The Weather.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Indications for the succeeding 32 hours: North Pacific—Fair weather, excepting cloudy weather with rain in the extreme northern portion; light variable winds, generally northwesterly.

The Colonial Exhibition.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—For novelty and display the coming Colonial and Indian exhibition promises to be one of the most interesting Europe has ever seen. The native princes are affording all the aid in their power to the undertaking, and are determined to make it a success. The Canadians here hope that your Dominion will also put its best foot foremost. Mr. John Cook, of tourist fame, leaves for India next month to superintend the visit to this city of a couple of dozen princes, who will be accompanied by great retinues of attendants and richly caparisoned elephants, and who will bring with them some wonderful jewels and works of art in silver and gold never before seen out of the country.

The Inland Revenue Department having recently adopted regulations permitting distillers to bottle "in bond," under the supervision of an officer, the product of their own distilleries, we are now enabled to offer the public our bottled in accordance with these regulations, and each bottle bearing Excise Officer's certificate as to age of contents. This gives the consumer a perfect and indisputable guarantee as to age, which cannot be obtained in any other way. We are now bottling our celebrated

CLUB WHISKEY OF 1879

And our Old Rye Whiskey of 1879, 1880, and 1883, which can be had of all dealers. See that every bottle has our name on capsule and cork, and has Excise Certificate over capsule.

THE KING TYE CO.

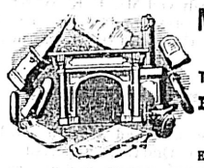

WITH REFERENCE TO THE SPECIAL notice in The Colonist signed King Tye & Co., I would beg to inform the trade and public generally that I was not, as stated therein, discharged from business connection with that firm.

In May, 1884, I became manager in this firm, and have continued in that position up to yesterday, when I tendered my resignation. It is easy to see that all transactions made by me personally, or under my signature as representative of the firm, must be valid, and for which King Tye Co. are responsible.

The sole cause of my resignation was a disagreement with my only resident partner.
